

Halisha through to semi-finals

HOUSING'S NEXT GENERATION

We are delighted to announce that Halisha Kaur, our Senior Regeneration Officer, has been named as one of eight people to make it through to the semi-final of the inaugural Housing's Next Generation competition.

Halisha delivered a presentation on "one idea to change the sector for the better" focusing on ending the poverty trap by increasing the investment in education and training for tenants.

Judges were impressed with Halisha's ability to defend her idea during a grilling set of questions, as well as being inventive with answers when posed with hypothetical scenarios.

Halisha will now write three blogs on different topics to win the hearts and minds of the sector.

Congratulations Halisha we wish you the very best of luck!
